

KADIST

About KADIST

Category defying from its inception, KADIST is a non-profit organization originating in Paris and San Francisco, and extending to a far-reaching network of artists, curators, and advisors committed to a panoramic view of contemporary art, urgent global issues, and progressive social values. Complimented by a growing permanent collection of over 1,200 artworks from around the world, KADIST acts as a platform for critical culture by producing exhibitions, public events, residencies, commissions, educational initiatives, and online programs. Working collaboratively with a constellation of partner institutions, KADIST reaches towards a multi-centered and multi-lingual institution for the 21st century.

Our Mission

KADIST is a non-profit arts organization that believes the arts make a fundamental contribution to a progressive society. Its programs actively encourage the engagement of artists, often represented in its collection, with the important issues of today to promote their role as cultural agents. KADIST's collections and productions reflect the global scope of contemporary art, and its programs develop collaborations with artists, curators and many art organizations around the world. Local programs in KADIST's hubs of Paris and San Francisco, including exhibitions, public events, residencies and educational initiatives, aim at creating vibrant conversations about contemporary art and ideas.
